

2011-2012 Educational Theater Performances

Bring your students to experience the wonderment of a live performance!

Online Pre-Performance Pointers Guide for Educators ● Post Performance Q & A with Professional Dancers
Pre-Performance Behind-the-Scenes Tour available at additional cost

INNOVATIVE WORKS

Wed., Nov. 9 ● 10:30-11:30 AM ● 701 N. Tryon Theater
Wed., Nov. 16 ● 10:30-11:30 AM ● 701 N. Tryon Theater
$9 per person/$6 for FOCUS schools

Recommended for Middle and High School Students

Contemporary choreography, in a new, more intimate venue! Students will get an up close and personal view of the dancers' athleticism and skill as they perform new ballets by renowned choreographers, Mark Diamond, David Ingram, and Sasha Janes, and an existing work by Dwight Rhoden. Program will integrate Music, Social Studies, and Poetry.

Photo by Jeff Cravotta
Pictured: Pete Walker

JEAN-PIERRE BONNEFOUX'S NUTCRACKER

Thurs., Dec. 15 ● 10-11:15 AM ● Belk Theater, Blumenthal Performing Arts Center
Act I & II Edited version, $10 per person/$7 for FOCUS schools

Recommended for All Ages

This holiday classic, choreographed by Jean-Pierre Bonnefoux, follows the young Clara as she receives a magical Nutcracker doll that turns into a Prince, battles the Mouse King, and whisks her off to experience other cultures on a journey to majestic fantasy lands. Program connects English/Language Arts and Multicultural curriculum.

Nutcracker Early Bird Special! Buy 50 or more seats by Nov. 4th and receive $2 off per person and an autographed Nutcracker poster! *Offer applies to non-FOCUS schools

Photo by Jeff Cravotta
Pictured: Company dancers Sarah Hayes Watson, Max Levy, and a School of NCDT dancer

SLEEPING BEAUTY

Thurs., March 15 ● 10:30-11:30 AM ● Knight Theater
Entire Act I, $10 per person/$7 for FOCUS schools

Recommended for All Ages

The tale of a beautiful princess and the triumph of good over evil, set to Pyotr Ilyich Tchaikovsky's unforgettable score, is sure to inspire creativity in your students. This beloved childhood story presented through movement will have students feeling happily ever after! Integrates English/Language Arts and Social Studies curriculum.

Photo by Jeff Cravotta
Pictured: Addul Manzano and Alessandra Ball

Reserve Your Seats Today!

Reserve and pay online at ncdance.org

or

Please contact NC Dance Theatre's Education and Outreach Department at 704.372.0101 x2775

